WRITTEN IN NEW YORK in 1940

God, bless this meeting and the members gathered here today. Help us to make this club a haven of strength and comfort, giving to all who seek help here, the beauty and friendliness of home- which shall be a shield against temptation of all kinds--and against loneliness and despair. Bless those who are going forth from this house to fight a gallant fight. And bless those who come here to rest, those who must readjust themselves to face life once more.

Amen
