Humble Beginnings

On Dec. 14, 1934, a failed stockbroker named Bill Wilson was struggling with alcoholism at a New York City Hospital Detox Ward. It was his fourth stay at the center and nothing had worked. Previously A friend named Ebby Thacher, had told him of a simple plan to give up drinking and give his life over to the service of God. Wilson was not a believer, but, at the end of his rope, he called out in his hospital room: “If there is a God, let Him show Himself! I am ready to do anything. Anything!” Bill Wilson never touched alcohol again. He went on to help found Alcoholics Anonymous, which, 75 years later, has some 1.2 million members in 55,000 meeting groups.
